Too Many Tomatoes By Eric Ode	Grandfather's garden is popping with peas. It's buzzing with blossoms, and bumbly bees. It's bursting with berries, and beans and potatoes and tall, twining vines of too many tomatoes. Eric Ode's rollicking, rhyming garden story combined with Kent Culotta's exuberant illustrations will have readers, tapping their toes (and digging their dirt, and sowing their seeds) as they count the too-many tomatoes overgrowing the garden, the building, the block ... and more!	The book cover for "Too Many Tomatoes" features a colorful illustration of an elderly man, a young boy, and an elderly woman standing in a garden overflowing with red tomatoes. The man and woman are holding baskets full of tomatoes, and the boy is also holding a basket. The title "Too Many Tomatoes" is written in a large, red, cursive font at the top. Below the title, it says "Written by Eric Ode" and "Illustrated by Kent Culotta".	https://amzn.to/2Wvq9vt

I Will Never Not Ever Eat a Tomato By Lauren Child	Lola is a fussy eater. A very fussy eater. She won't eat her carrots (until her brother Charlie reveals that they're orange twiglets from Jupiter). She won't eat her mashed potatoes (until Charlie explains that they're cloud fluff from the pointiest peak of Mount Fuji). There are many things Lola won't eat, including — and especially — tomatoes. Or will she?		https://amzn.to/2x5sFOz

Growing Vegetable Soup By Lois Ehlert	"Dad says we are going to grow vegetable soup." So begins Lois Ehlert's bright, bold picture book about vegetable gardening for the very young. The necessary tools are pictured and labeled, as are the seeds (green bean, pea, corn, zucchini squash, and carrot). Then the real gardening happens . . . planting, weeding, harvesting, washing, chopping, and cooking! In the end? "It was the best soup ever."		https://amzn.to/2UdwlFy
Pizza at Sally's By Monica Wellington	Sally the pizza maker makes pizza. She grows tomatoes in the community garden for the sauce. She gets cheese in the shop down the street. She buys flour from the mill for the dough. Festive artwork shows all her tasks as Sally prepares, mixes, and bakes delicious pizzas.		https://amzn.to/33uxL2R
From the Garden A Counting Book About Growing Food By Michael Dahl	Pea pods, cucumbers, and strawberries provide plenty of opportunities for counting in the garden! What's in the Garden? By Marianne Berks	Good food doesn't begin on a store shelf in a box. It comes from a garden bursting with life, color, sounds, smells, sunshine, moisture, birds, and bees! Healthy fruits and vegetables become much more interesting when children know where it comes from. And a few tasty recipes can start a lifetime of good eating. So what's in the garden?		https://amzn.to/2QvAPGD
Bear and Bunny Grow Tomatoes By Bruce Koscielniak	A hard-working bear and a lazy bunny both plant tomatoes in their gardens, with quite different results.		https://amzn.to/3dq1KxB

Chicks and Salsa
By Aaron Reynolds

What happens at Nuthatcher Farm when the chickens get tired of the same old chicken feed? The rooster hatches a plan, of course! With a pinch of genius, a dash of resourcefulness, and a little pilfering from the farmer's garden, the chickens whip up a scrumptious snack of chips and salsa. When the rest of the barnyard gets a whiff of the spicy smells and want to join in, it can mean only one thing . . . FIESTA! But when the big day arrives, all their spicy southwestern supplies are gone! It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Nuthatcher have caught on to the flavor craze as well, and the only thing left for the animals to do is to try a new culinary style-oooh la la!
